The Gallery of Masterpieces

Doubleday, Page & Co.

133-135-137 East 16th St.

New York City

25-90- Desc.

IF YOU ARE A LOVER OF THE BEAUTIFUL

you will be interested in our circular descriptive of "The Gallery of Masterpieces," which we shall be glad to mail to you free of cost. To avoid possibility of loss in the mails please write very plainly your present correct address, and return this card to us:

Your first name spelled out Middle initial

Your last name

Mail address with street and number

And your City and State

¶ The circular which we shall send you will contain miniatures of some of the large 15 x 20 Mezzotints from "The Gallery of Masterpieces," a work which embodies reproductions of the greatest pictures of the most Famous Painters down to the end of the Eighteenth Century.

¶ Thanking you in advance for a prompt return of this post card, we beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & COMPANY

¶ In each case the reproduction gives a remarkably good impression of the essential qualities of the original. Rembrandt's rich tonality, Gainsborough's subtle brilliance and Morland's limpidity are all clearly indicated.—NEW YORK TRIBUNE.
