

Handwritten text at the top of the page, likely a title or header, written in a cursive script.

Handwritten text in the upper center of the page, possibly a section heading.

Main body of handwritten text, arranged in several columns and partially enclosed by a red decorative border.

IG
156